situation, can feed our ideas and develop our dreams.”*

-Doug Wilhelm, author

Greetings from the Friends of the Westwood Library.

Doug Wilhelm’s words have never been truer than they are today. The Westwood Public Library is a hub of community, creativity and learning in our town.

With federal funding for libraries in jeopardy, your support is critical.

In the past year, programs funded by your generous donations to the Friends have benefited Westwood residents in myriad ways:

- Summer Reading and school-year programs support our kids, from their first story time to high school graduation
- After-hours events and author visits enhance our adult reading community
- Hobby clubs and our Living Library nurture curiosity and engagement for residents of all ages

We urge you to consider making a donation this month. Your support, no matter the size, makes a tangible difference in our ability to serve every member of our community.

Together, we can ensure the Westwood Public Library continues to “feed our ideas and develop our dreams.” Thank you for your continued dedication and generosity.
